

K2 studio, Ltd.
Producer's information

K2 studio belongs to the leading Slovak video production studios. It was found in 1995. The owner of the studio, who is in the same time the creative director – Pavol Barabáš, is a worldwide acknowledged filmmaker whose work concentrates on documentary filmmaking with mountaineering themes and themes on native civilizations.

His films received over 200 prestigious awards from national and international mountaineering, environmental and adventure film festivals among them – the prestigious GRAND PRIZE 2011 of the International Alliance for Mountain Film.

The K2 studio released an exclusive representative collection of all 22 DVDs of all films made by Pavol Barabáš. It does not only produce documentary films and DVDs, but prepares also TV programs for the Slovak Television and produces short representative and corporate films, too. The studio is involved in film advertising activities as well.